How does a user verify themselves?

Players on Laramidia have two options for verification: the Discord bot (in the "Player-Hub" channel) or the web panel. Regardless of the verification method chosen, full access to all features is granted only after the process is completed.

The process is explained here from the user's perspective, including exactly which IDs are required.

Finding the Steam-ID (SteamID)

To even consider verification, a user needs their own Steam ID.

They can easily find it by following these steps:

1. Open the Steam client and log in to the account.
2. Click on the username in the top right corner, then select "Account details."
3. The Steam ID can be found under "Account of..."

Verification via Discord Bot

The verification process via the Discord bot is incredibly simple.

To do this, a user simply needs to go to the "Player Hub" channel and press the "Verify" button.

They then enter their Steam ID in the pop-up that appears.

Optionally, the user can also enter a friend's Discord ID here to use the referral system.

Verification via the web panel

Verification via the web panel is also incredibly simple:

As soon as the user logs in for the first time, they see a large yellow banner at the top of their web panel:

⚠ Verification required — your Steam ID isn't linked yet. Park · Redeem · Shop · Trade · Duels are all disabled until you verify. Link your Steam ID →

Here, you have the option to simply click "Link your SteamID."

This allows the user to link their Steam ID and also enter another user's referral ID.

You're logged in with Discord — but your Steam ID isn't linked yet. Without it, parking, redeeming, the shop, trades and duels won't work.

17 digits, starts with 7656119. Find it at steamid.io by pasting your Steam profile URL.

REFERRER DISCORD ID (OPTIONAL)

Refer-a-Friend: paste your friend's Discord ID here. After you play 6+ hours, you get 10 coins and they get a free skin.

TIP

Prefer Discord? Find the IsleVault panel pinned in your Discord server and click Verify.
